LEARNING RESOURCES SELECTIONS

6.25010 DR

The college president is responsible for learning resource selection and will designate an administrator to supervise the library and media operations on the campus.

- I. At the discretion of the president, each campus may establish formal procedures for the selection and acquisition of learning resources material.
- II. Should any student, faculty member, or other citizen of the district file a written complaint about the appropriateness of any item in the library or media collection, a committee will review the complaint.
 - A. The committee will be chaired by an administrator designated by the president and will include a librarian, a counselor, and a representative of each of the divisions of the college.
 - B. After reviewing the complaint, the committee will recommend to the president what disposition should be made of the item in question.
