Commencement 2023

A MESSAGE from the MCC BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Dear Graduates,

As you stand on the cusp of graduation, I want to take a moment on behalf of the MCC Board of Trustees to congratulate you on your incredible achievement. We are all proud of your efforts and success; this is no small feat.

Throughout your time at MCC, you have grown in ways you may not have even imagined when you first started your journey. You have faced challenges (like COVID) head-on, embraced new experiences with open hearts and minds, and honed the skills and knowledge that will serve you well in the years to come.

But remember, your education doesn't end here. It is a lifelong pursuit, and I hope that you will continue to seek out opportunities to learn and grow, no matter where your path takes you.

As you move forward, I urge you to stay true to yourselves and to the values that have guided you thus far. Be brave in the face of adversity, and never hesitate to stand up for what you believe.

Above all, I hope that you will always remember the sense of belonging you felt here at MCC, and that you will carry that feeling with you as you embark on new adventures.

So, once again, congratulations on this momentous achievement. I have no doubt that each and every one of you will go on to do great things for our community, and all of us here today can't wait to see what you will accomplish.

President, MCC Board of Trustees

A MESSAGE from the CHANCELLOR

Dear MCC Graduates,

On behalf of Metropolitan Community College faculty, staff and administrators, it is my pleasure to welcome you to our 2023 commencement ceremony.

Congratulations on completing your certificate or degree. Reaching this milestone has undoubtedly tested your limits at times; getting here took hard work and tenacity. You made it, and it's time to celebrate!

Commencement is my favorite day of the year – a time to look back in gratitude at all that was accomplished and a time to look forward to the possibility of tomorrow with renewed purpose. You, the students of MCC, inspire us in everything we do, and it brings us tremendous pride to honor your achievement.

All the best,

A handwritten signature in black ink, which appears to read "Kimberly Beatty". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Dr. Kimberly Beatty
Chancellor, Metropolitan Community College

THOMAS CREACH
METROPOLITAN
COMMUNITY COLLEGE
CLASS OF 2023

COMMENCEMENT

STUDENT SPEAKER afternoon ceremony

Thomas Creach dropped out of high school his senior year but ultimately found his way back to a classroom. Now 30, he will not gloss over his “circuitous journey to higher education” when he addresses fellow MCC graduates.

“I want to talk to people in the crowd who are graduating by the skin of their teeth but they did it,” he says, adding: “You’re not just the worst thing you’ve done. . . . You will have the ability to define yourself on your own terms.”

Thomas, who grew up in Johnson County, would work as a professional baker and restaurant manager. Eventually he earned a high school equivalency diploma and, in the summer of 2018, started at MCC-Penn Valley. He is graduating with an associate in arts degree.

He’s moving on to UMKC to earn at least two degrees in what has become his passion: history. Inspired by MCC faculty and experiences here, including the College’s annual Civil Rights Pilgrimage to Southern historic sites, he plans to become a history instructor.

Thomas was awarded an MCC scholarship to go on the pilgrimage, a four-day bus journey that was “massively influential and completely changed the course of everything I’ve wanted to do.” It sold him on the idea of returning one day to Penn Valley to teach.

“I’ve always been fascinated by history and learning about things and absorbing information,” he says. Several years ago, for instance, he “got on a World War I history kick,” even volunteering at the National World War I Museum and Memorial in KC. His enthusiasm led to taking friends there, where they’d picnic and “I’d give them little tours sometimes.” Thomas, a “theater kid in high school,” must have come off as engaging and knowledgeable, because he’d notice other museum visitors sidling up to his unofficial tour groups: “It felt nice to have people want to listen to me basically give a lecture.”

Right now, he’s finishing up an MCC documentary on the history of the Penn Valley basketball program. “I think it’ll be incredibly affecting for people with an attachment to Penn Valley but also just a timeless story that will resonate even with people who’ve never set foot in Missouri.”

Thomas says his college career started out strong but later sputtered a little. The pandemic was part of it. Still, “MCC has worked with me every single step and not judged me, condemned me or dismissed me,” he says. Another reason he’ll be back.

ADEN BAKKEN
METROPOLITAN
CLASS OF 2023

COMMENCEMENT STUDENT SPEAKER evening ceremony

Aden Bakken, 27, of Platte City, Missouri, completed his MCC associate in arts degree last December. As a student speaker, he is representing MCC-Online, although he also took classes on the Maple Woods campus in Kansas City's Northland.

He just started a summer class at UMKC, where he'll likely pursue a degree in electrical and computer engineering. He loves math, science and physics and came this close to a straight-A GPA at MCC: He got just one B (his first semester).

His goal is to work in robotics — designing robots that will do jobs that aren't safe for humans (like mining or high-risk construction work), or tasks that would enhance our lives. In Aden's own life, he would appreciate a robot that does chores around the house. It should "definitely do the laundry," he says. "That's the biggest thing." Including folding.

Was there an MCC class that stands out for him? One was a chemistry course taught by adjunct instructor Hubert Ekpoh. He immediately explained the connection between his class and the real world, Aden says — no doubt particularly beneficial for new students. It was Aden's final semester, but "if it had been my first semester, I'd have been like, 'I'm staying here!'"

At MCC, Aden was a member of the Phi Theta Kappa academic honor society and the National Society of Leadership and Success. A slightly less high-minded organization he enjoyed? The Cornhole Club at Maple Woods. (For the uninitiated, it's a lawn game that involves tossing beanbags at a hole on an angled board.)

If the robotics thing doesn't work out, teaching would be his second choice. "I like helping people understand, guiding people, looking at things in different ways. I aspire to be a beacon or a rock for people when it comes to their education, too," says Aden, who has worked as a private tutor.

"I just like school, I like learning, I like sharing the college experience of becoming more informed. Knowledge really is power."

JON STEPHENS
METROPOLITAN COMMUNITY
COLLEGE-LONGVIEW
1991-1992

MCC FOUNDATION DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD afternoon ceremony

His mom called him “The Sponge.” As a south Kansas City kid, Jon Stephens just soaked up knowledge — whether that was reading the dictionary or memorizing Trivial Pursuit cards “so I could hold my own against the adults on game night.”

Little surprise, then, that as a high school junior, Jon eagerly signed up for Metropolitan Community College classes offered at his school. The next year, Hickman Mills School District offered to pay for some students to take evening classes at the MCC-Longview campus in Lee’s Summit. The result? Not only did Jon get a taste of college, he also accumulated enough hours to start at the University of Missouri as an almost-sophomore.

The Sponge, clearly an overachiever, earned three bachelor’s degrees — in journalism, history and political science — plus a master’s in art history at Mizzou. His plan also called for attending law school on the East Coast, then returning to KC to work as a public defender. He figured he’d one day run for public office.

But his track took a detour toward economic development instead of a courthouse or politics. Stephens is president and CEO of Port KC, the port authority. His resume also includes stints as president of the Power & Light District, director of economic development for the Unified Government of Wyandotte County and Kansas City, Kansas, and president/CEO of tourism agency Visit KC.

The offices of Port KC offer a splendid view of what’s being billed as the first stadium built for a women’s professional sports team: the KC Current soccer team’s future home on the banks of the Missouri River. “There’ll be no place like it,” Stephens promises.

“Most people don’t even know that Kansas City has a port authority,” he says, “but Port KC’s mission is to grow the economy of Kansas City and create quality jobs for all Kansas Citians.” And the port district is not limited to the riverfront. Port KC also, for instance, owns the former Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base in south KC, with plans to bring 5,000 jobs back.

All those pandemic worries about the supply chain? Port KC was busy working “to make sure that Kansas City was not only the heart of the supply chain but that we were keeping goods moving across the country.”

In Stephens’ view, “sometimes we underestimate Kansas City. It’s a really special place.” That specialness is rooted in its people, he adds.

“MCC, the community college network and really our entire educational network in Kansas City is pretty incredible. . . . We just need more people to understand that they can gain the opportunities they need and the opportunities they deserve right here at home, and then go off to the world if they choose, right?”

Stephens’ message to MCC’s Class of 2023: “Whether you’re a south Kansas City kid like me or you’re an East Side kid or you’re a Northlander, it doesn’t really matter . . . you can do anything in the world.” His anything was “reimagining urban communities and neighborhoods” for the benefit of everyone — and doing it in his favorite city on Earth.

FAHTEEMA PARRISH
METROPOLITAN
CLASS OF 2001

MCC FOUNDATION DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD evening ceremony

If you're ever having a rough day — one of those days where you're feeling the weight of the world on your shoulders — an easy cure is spending a little time with 2023 Distinguished Alumni honoree, Fahteema Parrish. You will leave energized, inspired and convinced you are capable of more than when you walked in.

Parrish, founder and president of Parrish & Sons Construction — a local heavy construction, excavating and technical engineering company — possesses the kind of spirit for which we all strive. The one we may catch just a glimpse of when we are being our best selves.

So what, you may ask, is the driving force behind Parrish, who founded her business in 2015 after a successful 20-year career as an information technology professional?

A few things.

First, Parrish is a self-proclaimed “serial entrepreneur” and, as such, embraces the necessity of “failing forward,” or viewing failures as opportunities for learning and growth.

The idea of legacy — bettering the world while also creating a sustainable business that can one day be carried on by her four sons — is another powerful motivator for Parrish. When unpacking her personal and professional evolution, she speaks frequently of her father who, along with her mother, ran a successful HVAC business. Parrish observed that her father took matters relating to civil rights and social injustice personally, researched intently to identify their root causes, then found ways to address these problems in his daily life and interactions with others.

It is clear Parrish is an apple that does not fall far from that tree.

Starting during her time at MCC-Penn Valley, where she attained her associate in arts in computer information systems degree in 2001 and was recognized as salutatorian, Parrish says she has always demanded 120% effort from herself. When she asked her advisors at Penn Valley how she could get connected to DECA, a marketing organization for emerging leaders and entrepreneurs, she learned it did not exist at the community college. In response, Parrish founded her own organization called Business Essentials Training and Awareness, or BETA for short. She worked hard to solicit the 50 required signatures and soon became the club's president with a loyal leadership group at her side. Today, she maintains close ties with several from that BETA group, many of whom have gone on to great success.

Asked what advice she would give the Class of 2023, Parrish said: “Choose your passion. Get paid for it. Pursue it aggressively.”

Following her time at MCC, Parrish went on to obtain her bachelor's in management information systems from Northwest Missouri State University, and a master's in information technology management from Webster University. Once she set the goal of starting her own construction company, Parrish returned to the classroom once again. She earned her OSHA 30 certificate and commercial driver's license (don't be surprised to catch her driving a loaded, 13-ton dump truck at the job site). She also has credentials from accelerated construction management programs including Turner School of Construction Management, JE Dunn Minority Development Program and UMKC Growth Elevation Lab.

Parrish lives in Grandview with her husband, Clark, and sons Faheem, 17; Clark Anderson, 16; Micheal, 12; and Eli, 10.

OUR HISTORY

Metropolitan Community College is the oldest public institution of higher learning in Kansas City, Missouri. Founded downtown in 1915 as the Kansas City Polytechnic Institute, the new post-secondary school became known as the Junior College of Kansas City in 1919. It was one of the first two-year colleges in the country to award an associate degree. The college moved to a former junior high school at 38th and McGee streets in 1942.

The Kansas City Board of Education was the college's governing body until 1964. That year, seven suburban school districts — Belton, Center, Grandview, Hickman Mills, Lee's Summit, North Kansas City and Raytown — joined forces with the Kansas City district to create the Metropolitan Junior College District. A Board of Trustees was elected by citizens in the newly formed college district.

As the metropolitan area grew and spread out, so did MCC, opening the Longview, Maple Woods and Penn Valley campuses starting in 1969. In the 1980s and '90s, the Blue Springs, Park Hill, Independence and Fort Osage school districts joined the MCC district, and in April 2021, the Grain Valley, Liberty and Oak Grove districts joined. The number of K-12 school systems that are "in-district" with the community college now stands at 15.

The Blue River and Business & Technology campuses opened in 1997 and 2002, respectively.

In 2005, the institution that had been calling itself Metropolitan Community Colleges dropped the "s" to become Metropolitan Community College — one college with multiple campuses. The first unified, all-campus commencement was held in May 2012 at Municipal Auditorium.

In December 2021, MCC closed the Business & Technology campus after relocating all of its workforce programs to new and updated facilities constructed at Penn Valley and Blue River.

With multiple degree options offered exclusively through virtual learning, the College began listing MCC-Online as a fifth campus in 2021.

Today, MCC offers 120+ associate degree and certificate programs. The College serves about 20,000 students annually through credit and noncredit courses and business services.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The origins of academic regalia date back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form. The first gowns were patterned after the dress of the cleric and were believed to be a necessity for warmth in unheated buildings. Hoods were designed to serve as cover for the tonsured head. Caps were not used at that time. It wasn't until late 19th century that colors were assigned to signify degrees. The color used should be indicative of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the velvet for the degree of Master of Science in Education should be light blue, representing education, rather than gold, representing science. No academic hood should ever represent more than a single degree. In the case of the Ph.D. degree, the dark blue color is used to represent the mastery of the discipline of learning and scholarship in any field that is attested to be the awarding of this degree and is not intended to represent the field of philosophy.

Among other academic credentials, Metropolitan Community College confers Associate Degrees. The Associate Degree typically represents successful completion of two years of collegiate work above the level of secondary school. It is the youngest in the family of major academic degrees, but its origin goes back more than a century. Its first use may be traced to England, where the University of Durham authorized it as early as 1856. It was first used in the United States at the University of Chicago in 1900 under the influence of President William Rainey Harper. Over the following two decades, the University of Chicago conferred more than 4,000 Associate Degrees (Associate in Arts, Associate in Literature and Associate in Science) on graduates of its junior college division.

The Associate Degree is often thought of as a junior or community college degree and is currently awarded by some 1,200 such colleges, but it is by no means limited to them. At least 250 other institutions, including four-year universities, liberal arts colleges, technical institutes and theological institutions, also award it.

For all academic purposes, the colors associated with the different disciplines are as follows:

Apricot	Nursing	Olive	Pharmacy
Brown	Fine Arts	Orange	Engineering
Crimson	Journalism	Peacock Blue	International Studies
Copper	Economics	Pink	Music
Dark Blue	Philosophy	Purple	Law
Golden Yellow	Social Work	Russet	Forestry
Gray	Veterinary Science	Sage Green	Physical Education
Green	Medicine	Salmon Pink	Public Health
Lemon	Library Science	Silver Gray	Speech
Light Blue	Education	Scarlet	Theology
Light Brown	Business	White	Arts, Letters and Humanities
Lilac	Dentistry	Yellow	Science
Maize	Agriculture

A MESSAGE from the FOUNDATION BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Dear 2023 MCC graduates,

Congratulations on your graduation, and welcome to the Metropolitan Community College alumni family.

The MCC Foundation works tirelessly to raise scholarship dollars to ensure any student who wishes to further themselves through education has that opportunity at MCC, where our mission is preparing students, serving communities and creating opportunities for all. Last year, the MCC Foundation awarded a record $750,000 in scholarship dollars and helped 782 students across our five campuses pursue the promise of an education.

But as long as there are more students who need assistance, our work is not finished.

It is only through the generosity of donors that the Foundation is able to grant scholarships, and the best way for recipients to say thank you is by paying it forward and helping others.

Commencement is just the beginning for you, and we look forward to hearing about the incredible things you'll accomplish as you continue your life's journey. Please help us keep up with you by taking a moment to share your alumni information with us at mccckc.edu/alumni, and we'll send you a special gift.

Best wishes,

STAND UP & BE COUNTED

On behalf of the Metropolitan Community College Foundation, congratulations on your achievement. It is with great pleasure that we welcome you to a group that is thousands of people strong. Since 1915, we've been educating Kansas City's workforce. Now, you join them as another proud alumnus of Kansas City's premier educational institution.

We're excited to see where your MCC degree or certificate takes you, and we hope that you'll keep in touch with us. The support of the MCC family continues well after you graduate. Our goal is to help alumni connect with one another so your ties to MCC remain strong. We look forward to providing opportunities that allow you to strengthen your bond with MCC, either in person or virtually. We encourage you to take full advantage of our programs and events, including career networking, social gatherings, faculty and staff presentations, art openings, sporting events and volunteer opportunities.

STAY CONNECTED

- Go to mccck.edu/alumni and complete your alumni registration. Once you're registered, you will receive invitations to programs, services and events, and we will send you a special gift!
- Connect with MCC (@MCCKansas City) on social media.
- Update your LinkedIn profile; a network is only as strong as those who join it!
