<td>Campus of Attendance: Longview</td>
<td>September 12, 1997, began well for Tom Kessler, 46-year-old public information officer at MCC-Longview. His plans for the United Way campaign were taking shape and he'd received praise for an article he had written. He left work in high spirits. The day ended tragically: He died in his sleep that night, leaving his wife, two sons and a multitude of friends and co-workers stunned. This scholarship was set up in his memory.</td>

<td>Renewal: Maintain 3.0 GPA and other eligibility requirements. The Wright-Seburn Scholarship fund was established in 2003, in loving memory of Opat Seburn, who was a former student of the Junior College of Kansas City prior to it becoming the Metropolitan Community College District it is today. The Scholarship was set up by Dr. Dorothy Wright, who spent more than 40 years at Metropolitan Community College, first as an instructor, then Counselor, Registrar, Dean of Instruction, and Acting President of the Penn Valley Community College. Throughout her career, it was not uncommon for Dr. Wright to assist students who were having financial difficulties with paying tuition and fees, or purchasing books. Many of those students who were helped by Dr. Wright never knew that the &quot;emergency monies&quot; that were mysteriously found always came out of her own pocket. After Dr. Wright’s passing in 2007, the scholarship is continuing to carry on with her mission of helping students in need.</td>
